

News and Views . . .

and what have you by BOB CRAIG

While spending most of my nights during the past two weeks down at the park working on the Jaycee Miniature Golf course I have noticed the almost complete lack of lights down there.

The most noticeable part of the park is in the playground area where there seems to be no lights at all.

The park appears to be in better shape this year than it has been in some time and quite a few people are making use of it.

Whether this is a problem for the city or for a civic group I am not sure.

If there isn't already, it would seem that there should be an overall plan for the park and then present this plan to the various men's and women's groups in town so that they could work on it.

By one method or another, both ball parks have been re-lighted to bring them up in good shape and now it would be a good time for someone to undertake the lighting of the tennis courts at the high school and the lighting of the park.

Once a project is lighted so that more people can use it the rest of improvements seem to follow.

I am sure that by now every one has noticed the new sign board that the Jaycees erected downtown. Several people have told me and the other Jaycees how glad they were to see us put it up, what they don't realize is how much the Jaycees themselves are glad to see the sign up.

The club has been working on this project for over two years, stopped by one thing or another time after time—mostly money. It has become a standing joke with the club.

Although the sign is not completely finished yet, all of the club members breathed a great big sigh of relief when the sign was raised last Friday afternoon.

As soon as possible after the sign is finished, arrangements will be made to carry the coming events on the sign. As soon as the rules for the use of the sign have been worked out the organizations of the city will be notified so that they can make use of it.

Where the money goes—from the Treasury's running balance sheet, here's what the first 18 days of July cost in government services:

The Treasury took in $2.6 billion, one-third in income taxes.

The Treasury wrote checks for $6 billion, including $166 million for interest on the public debt.

Thus, for the fiscal year to date (beginning 1 July), revenue of the United States Treasury has amounted to only 43 percent of expenditures.

If every taxpayer had to pay an equal share of taxes to cover expenditures for the first 18 days of the fiscal year, it would amount to $106 each, $23 more than for the same period last year.

If every taxpayer had to pay an equal share of the national debt, it would come to $4,968, $150 more than this date last year.

HEALTH DEPT. GIVES HINTS FOR FIRST YEAR STUDENTS

Early this fall more than 238,000 young Texans will be entering both private and public schools for the first time.

Even though the opening of school is still some weeks away, parents are busy making preparation to insure that their child makes a smooth adjustment to his new environment.

The child's adjustment will be more rapid and satisfactory if he starts his school life in good, sound health.

Have your family physician or local clinic give your child a complete physical examination including an eye check. His teeth should also be checked by the family dentist. If these examinations show there are ailments or defects that can and should be looked after, then follow the doctor's and dentist's advice and have them corrected, if possible, before you enroll him in school.

It's likely that your child has already been immunized against certain of the childhood diseases such as diphtheria, whooping cough, and smallpox. If not, have it done immediately either by your doctor or by

NEINDA PHILOSOPHER FINDS HIMSELF AT MID-SUMMER WITH EVERYTHING DONE HE'D PLANNED

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on route one takes stock of himself at mid-summer, his letter this week reveals. When the inventory amounts to another matter. Dear editor:

I walked down to my mail box the other morning mostly out of habit and discovered a neighbor of mine had a flat tire right in front of it and was working furiously to fix it.

"Worst time on earth to have a flat," he said. "Get a thousand things to do today. Here it is the middle of summer and I haven't done a fourth of the things I'd planned."

I helped him change tires, that is, I told him he was turning his lug wrench the wrong way if he expected to get the lugs off, and I waited around and advised him to turn it the other way when he was putting his spare on. Nobody should get so busy he can't help a neighbor out.

At any rate, after he left I came on back to my house and sat down on the front porch and got to thinking. Here it is indeed the middle of summer and I have done everything I planned to do.

You take my front gate. It's still off its hinges and propped up against the fence like it was last year, but the difference between me and my neighbor is I hadn't planned to do anything about it. I never promised myself anything in regard to it. I see no use in coming to the end of the summer with not only a broken gate but a broken promise also. No use straining yourself, trying to keep both your fences and your character intact and if you can't do both, put your character first.

A lot of people over the years have asked me why I don't fix that gate and I'll tell you why. To live satisfactorily in this world, a man has got to learn to put up with imperfections. If you're going to have a compulsion to fix everything that's wrong in this world, you'll be swinging a hammer right and left from now on, and the way to avoid this, to steel yourself against the imperfections in the rest of the world, is to get used to ignoring some right in front of you, like a sagging front gate. You need something close at hand to practice on.

In some respects, this may not be considered sound, but it's comfortable.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

TEXAS TOURIST TRADE DROPS FOR FOURTH STRAIGHT YEAR

AUSTIN. The decline of the Texas tourist industry slowed slightly but didn't stop in 1961.

The annual Tourist Industry Report compiled by the state's official tourist agency, the Texas Highway Department, revealed today that the number of tourists visiting Texas dropped for the fourth straight year.

Total visitors to Texas during 1961 were 8,408,000, a decline of some two per cent below the 8,600,000 who visited the state in 1960.

Last year's guests spent only $140 million in the state compared to 1960's total expenditures of 457 million.

The reason for the continued sag is the tourist advertising programs of other states, said Herbert C. Petry Jr., chairman of the Texas Highway Commission.

"Aggressive media advertising programs by other states continue to lure prospective visitors away from Texas—a state which has no funds as yet for media advertising," Petry said.

He pointed out that the 1961 drop was slightly less than the decline registered during several previous years, and said he believed it is due to two things:

1. The effect of the "collateral" tourist attraction program being waged by the Highway Department (operation of Tourist Bureaus, distribution of Travel Maps and Brochures)
2. The concerted efforts of many local tourist development groups and chambers of commerce, and the assistance of the newly created Texas Tourist Council, a private organization designed to supplement state tourist-attracting activities.

"Texans are waking up to the value of the tourist industry, and this encouraging new attitude is showing some results," Petry said.

"Texas is a world within itself," Petry said. "In its variety of attractions it has everything to offer tourists except winter sports. Yet the ranking of the tourist industry in Texas gives cause for grave concern."

"Nationally, the tourist industry ranks third—below only manufacturing and agriculture. But in Texas, it ranks only 15. However, with proper effort we can help this industry achieve its great potential," he said.

"But the state will never really take the offensive and begin to show a gain rather than a loss until it has funds for media advertising and can compete effectively with other states," he said.

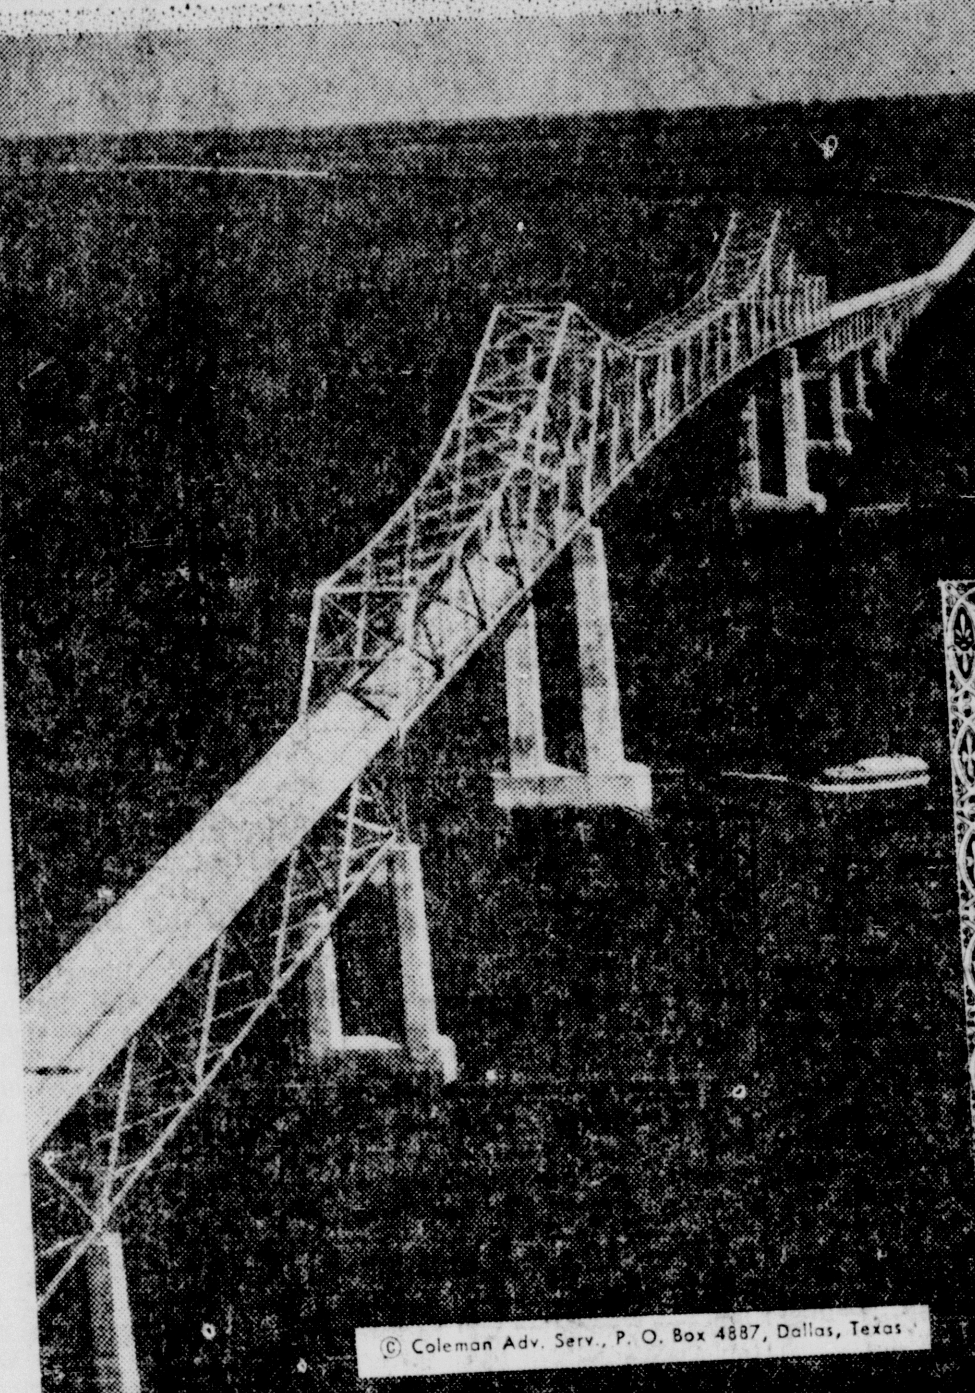

Petry said he hopes that the forthcoming session of the Texas Legislature will make available funds to launch a media advertising campaign.

Petry pointed out that the tourist industry of 1961 was despite its decline, a valuable source of revenue for the state. Tourist dollars accounted for an estimated $23 million in direct state taxes, and the money spent by tourists create and supported 84,000 jobs for Texans—16,000 jobs in the accommodations field; 39,000 in food; 5,000 in transportation and 4,000 in miscellaneous industries.

Triumph OVER THE SEAS

"What is man . . . Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands"

God has blessed man and given him the right and power to rule over his creation. As man has needs, God has given him the knowledge and ability to meet these needs. Pictured here is only one of many such triumphs. Our nation has particularly been blessed. Let us each Sunday attend worship services and give thanks to our Lord, who is so generous.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

FAIRVIEW NEWS

By MRS. ELMER JOINER

The general subject of the weather has changed out this way to some thing far more creepy, and that is worms. The threat of boll worms and the boll weevil is the thought uppermost in the minds of all of the farmers. A heavy infestation has been found and the cloudy, humid, weather of the past week has been ideal for them. Different measures are being discussed to combat them, but for the present several farmers are purchasing lady bugs, by the gallon, to be delivered this week. These bugs are said to eat the eggs, laid by the bollworm, and by destroying their eggs, hope to control their spread. This is some thing new to our area, but since it is cheaper than poison, the farmers are trying it first.

Family fight was held last week on Wednesday night, combined with the regular mid week services with twenty-eight present. Program was planned and refreshments were served on the lawn by Mrs. Derrel Lewis, Mrs. Woodrow Goodwin and Mrs. Elmer Joiner, with the pops being furnished by Mr. Bill Newland. A musical program was planned with four solos being sung, and group singing. You never know you have so many soloists in a church until you try them out, which we will be doing more in the future.

The members of the church, and any one else wishing to come, will meet next Saturday and give the church house and grounds a general cleaning, in preparation for the revival, which will begin August 10th. A sack lunch will be brought and work will proceed until all is in tip top shape, so don't forget to be there.

Last Wednesday afternoon members of the Church Achievement Program met in the home of Mrs. Woodrow Goodwin to work on the scrap book as the deadline is August 15th and quite a lot of work was to be done before it was to be turned in. We think we have a good scrap book this year, which has been planned and most of the work done by Mrs. H. L. Ford. Those attending and working on the project were Mrs. Ford, Mrs. Winslow Gray, Mrs. Elmer Joiner, Mrs. Woodrow Goodwin and Linda Goodwin.

It was good to see Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ford back in church Sunday, after having been gone two Sundays. They were visiting their son in Truth or Consequences, New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Winson Gray went to Anson last Thursday night and had supper with his Ann, and Deborah of Abilene; Mr. Ray C. Leverett, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mattick and Sally of Maryland.

The Joe Matticks stayed at Mrs. John D. Pollock's house. Sally Mattick visited Sharon in Old Glory. Friday, the Matticks and Mrs. Pollock came to Old Glory to spend the night and then go on to Oklahoma. The Matticks haven't been to Texas in 5 years.

The Old Glory Girls' 4-H met Friday to work on record books which have to be in by the 13 of August. Those attending were: Sharon Leverett, Nancy Vahlenkamp, Billie Vahlenkamp, Judy White, Judy and Carolyn Sander, Reva and Regina Letz, Donna Pierce and Dona Bradshaw with Mrs. Pierce as adult leader. The Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pridle, Ricky and Shirley of Abilene; Mrs. Jean Leverett, parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gray.

Mrs. E. A. Henry visited with Mrs. Oscar Jenkins, in Hamlin, Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Jones will spend this week with their son in Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Jones and children. They will paint their house for them.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Henry went to Crosbyton last Wednesday and spent the night with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Henry.

Mrs. Henry reports that her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Norman, of Rule, to be home from the hospital, and better at the time of their visit Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Elmer Joiner attended the Rally Day for the Jones County Home Demonstration Clubs held in Anson last Thursday.

Rev. and Mrs. Derrel Lewis and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Gray were dinner guests of the Fred Rosenbaums Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wright and Melinda, attended the Wright family reunion Sunday, held in Anson, at the park.

Woodrow Goodwin was on the puny list again this week, having had a tooth extracted Saturday, which is giving him some trouble.

Jerry Joiner spent Monday and Tuesday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Joiner. This is Jerry's first visit back to Hamlin since moving to Odessa, he will spend most of his time with Larry McCoy and they have been attending the ball games.

Last Tuesday night ten of our people, including the pastor and family, attended the revival at Hanna. On Saturday night eleven attended services at the Corinth revival.

On Wednesday night of this week David (Tuffy) Ford will preach his first sermon at the Fairview Church. Since he was reared in this church it is very fitting that he deliver his first sermon from this pulpit. His father, Mr. Joe Ford, is senior deacon of our church, so it will be a great blessing to Mr. and Mrs. Ford to be able to be present and hear him as he begins his ministry as a Baptist minister.

Return Home

Three Hamlin boys returned Saturday from a months stay at Camp Rio Vista near Kerrville.

The boys, Leldon L. Clifton, Jim Clifton, both sons of Mr. and Mrs. Leldon Clifton, and Price Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Bryant, spent the month of July at the camp where they participated in various sports and crafts.

Col. John P. Stapp of the Air Force Aero-Medical Field Laboratory, made a crash stop from 632 miles per hour to zero in 1.4 seconds and lived to tell the tale. How? He packaged himself in his seat safely with a seat belt. You are never hurt in a crash until you hit something. Seat belts keep you from hitting most things.

One of the deadliest games in U. S. traffic nowadays is kiss-the-windshield. Kiss it a little too hard, and it's too bad. There's no reason to kiss it at all. Stay away from that windshield, by packaging yourself with a seat belt.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN—Gov. Price Daniel and water conservation leaders are launching a campaign to win voter approval of Constitutional Amendment No. 4 on the general election ballot on November 6.

Daniel's Statewide Water Conservation Committee will meet on Sept. 10 to map the campaign. Other statewide organizations are being urged to join the effort.

This amendment would allow the Texas Water Development Board to use part of its $100,000,000 water loan fund to pay for the added height needed to fully utilize damsites in Texas.

Story is this: When cities or the federal government build reservoirs, there may not be enough demand for water in the area to build the dams to the full height. Water studies have indicated that in 20 to 50 years, the full yield of all presently-proposed reservoirs will be needed to supply the 21,000,000 Texans expected by the year 2010.

But if the dam and reservoir are built only to meet present or near-future needs, there will be greatly increased costs later on, since recreational and other developments will have then been built around it. Cost could run two or three times as much, then, to buy the developed land and raise the dam. The samples of the need are in the news these days.

Lavon Reservoir near Dallas, was built mainly for flood control by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. Now more space is needed for water supply purposes.

Today, however, the North Texas Municipal Water District, which supplies water to 10 cities in the area, will have to pay about 60 or 70 per cent more than it would have cost them in the first place.

Cooper Reservoir on the Sulphur River is being delayed tight now, because cities in the area just can't raise the money to build it to full size.

LEGISLATORS' LIBRARY LEAVING—Miss Doris Connerly, the 1919 University of Texas law graduate who has directed a reference for State representatives in the Capitol for 34 years, won't be in the statehouse when the 58th Legislature meets next January. She will retire on September 30.

Miss Connerly became director of the Legislative Reference library in 1928 when Dan Moody was governor. She and the late Gov. Beauford Jester were former classmates and friends. However, she won't pick a favorite among the Texas governors she has worked with. But she does say that she considers herself fortunate to have served during the terms of Coke Stevenson, Allan Shivers and Price Daniel. "These men played an important role in Texas' growth in economics and culture," she says.

Texas' legislative library was established by the Legislature in 1909 to furnish legislators with factual and historical material. But thousands of state workers and citizens interested in state business have used its services, including the file on "State Statutes and Session Laws." These date back more than 150 years and relate to all 50 states in the union.

COURTS TAKE A HOLIDAY—Justices of the Texas Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals have shed their long black robes for the remainder of the summer. The massive doors to their elegant chambers in the Texas Supreme Court Building won't be opened again until they reconvene on October 1.

Both courts are "supreme courts" because of a unique judicial set-up that Texas shares with the State of Oklahoma and England. Civil cases appealed from lower courts come to the Supreme Court. Final hall of appeal for criminal cases is the Court of Criminal Appeals.

POPULATION ZOOMING—State Health Commissioner, J. E. Peavy estimates that Texas' population passed the 10,000,000 mark Friday.

He based his prediction by computing births, deaths and migration since April, 1960. At that time Texas had a population of 9,579,677. Then Texans registered 570,225 births and 176,500 deaths or a natural increase of 393,725.

Assuming that the 1950-1960 rate of migration has continued 26,500 more people have moved into the state than out, during the calculated period. That would give the state a total that, "500 lives could have been saved in Texas traffic in 1961 alone if drivers and front-seat passengers, in particular, had been wearing seat belts."

This would have reduced that year's traffic toll by nearly one-fourth.

Jaycees and members of TFWC have been conducting safety belt campaigns.

WILSON CITES ODD CURES—Attorney General Will Wilson noted the recent U. S. District Court's refusal to allow naturopaths to prevent the State of Texas from prosecuting them for practicing medicine without meeting qualifications of the Medical Practices Act.

Wilson called the decision "a valuable tool with which the people of Texas can fight uneducated charlatans and quacks who prey on unfortunate people when they have troubles."

He cited state's evidence including:

One naturopath who treated patients by sending catnip, parsley and strawberry leaf tea through the mail without having seen the patients.

Committee is composed of Sen. Culp Krueger, El Campo; Sen. A. R. Schwartz, Galveston; Rep. Neal Caldwell, Alvin; Rep. Don Garrison, Houston; John Mehos of Galveston; Jack E. Walker of Baytown; George T. Camp of Beaumont, and C. T. Parker Jr., and W. B. Edwards of Houston.

They expected to meet again in the fall to prepare a report for the Legislature.

SAFETY PLAN LAUDED—Governor Daniel credited organizations such as the Junior Chambers of Commerce and the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs with awakening public interest in the use of safety belts in automobiles.

He said that Texas Department of Public Safety statisticians have informed him that their accident reports show

State Treasurer Jesse James reported the deficit in the Gen-

BY AMY ADAMS

HOW DO YOU CONTROL THE MAN?

Dear Amy:

I have been seeing a very nice young man for several months, and we have come to know each other very well. There have been no intimacies between us other than the usual kisses. Here of late he has become more demanding and it has become almost a continual struggle to fight him off.

I like him very much and I know he cares for me, otherwise I would refuse to see him again. Have you any ideas on how I could continue going with him and still preserve my "dignity"? Marriage in Mind

Dear Mind:

Any woman can control the beast in a man if she's "cagey" enough! If he respected your "dignity", he would control his desires until he could put your name on a marriage license.

Be bold in what you stand for and careful what you fall for!

Dear Amy:

I have a friend (a boy) who is going steady with a girl I know.

One night he tried to kiss me. I told his girlfriend and she asked him if it were true and he is denying it. Shall I tell her it wasn't true and make her mad at me or let her think he was lying and cause them to break up? Worried

Dear Worried:

If you let a cat out of the bag never try to cram it back again; his girl friend will find out about him sooner or later all by herself.

Dear Amy:

I have known Stan for quite some time and like him very much. A few weeks ago he gave me a friendship ring. It's not an expensive one, but very pretty and I had much pleasure in wearing it. That is, I did until my friends began making sarcastic remarks about it. Now I wear it on a chain around my neck.

Stan is quite angry that I don't wear it on my finger, but I can't hurt his feelings and tell him what my friends say. Tell him what I do?

Terry

Dear Terry:

Although I can understand your concern about what your friends say, there are times, in the process of growing up, when you must form your own opinions regardless of what theirs are.

When you accept a friendship ring from a boy you like very much, you should wear it where it belongs. If you don't, he'll find someone who will.

Dear Amy:

I beg you to print this so that other women will have hopes for a drinking husband.

Some months ago I saw a letter in your column which read like a carbon copy of my life. You offered to send the writer a letter of how one wife helped save her husband from alcoholism. I wrote you for that advice, too. I have three children and my husband had spent all his earnings drinking and gambling. He came home from work four nights out of five dog-drunk and if I opened my mouth, he would beat me black and blue, shout at me and one time even broke my arm. The children were scared to death of him. I had thought of killing him many a night as he lay sprawled across my bed . . . drunk. We were deep in debt from him selling everything we had so that he could get a few dollars for a bottle. Now he admits (after reading the story) you were kind enough to send me that in a few months he would have been in the hospital for treatment as an alcoholic.

I know I had grown bitter and nagged a lot so I really decided to do just what the letter said. Amy, in two short months, my husband has stopped drinking, stays at home and is kind and good to me and the babies. He takes time to talk and play with our 5 year old son, brings in little gifts, goes to church now and acts proud of us. He brings his check home and we figure it to together. We have hopes of getting out of debt soon.

I started fixing myself up and acting different. He says I don't have to worry about fixing up that he loves me more than he ever has and has a new respect for me. This seems like Heaven on Earth. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts. Please don't print our names, just sign us . . . Happy

Happy

Dear Amy:

REVISED STANDARD VERSION of The Holy Bible, 10th Anniversary Edition—$2.25 at the Hamlin Herald.

THE HAMLIN HERALD

AUGUST 2, 1962

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE . . .

WASHINGTON, D. C.—On May 11, 1961, the President of the United States appointed a Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crime. The Committee has now made its report. All through the report this Committee of experts signifies the belief that the Federal Government should accept a major responsibility to find "creative and effective solutions" to the problem, in partnership with local communities. The policies evolved by the President's Committee call for development of a pattern of technical assistance and demonstration grants by Federal agencies concerned with youth problems. The Committee refers to "planning," "training," "demonstration," and a "curriculum of study."

All this suggests that, although the term "partnership with local communities" is mentioned, emphasis is on the initiative of the Federal Government.

The lack of supervised recreation is given as one of the causes of juvenile delinquency, and the report discusses suggested remedies.

No place does the report take cognizance of the responsibility of the home, the school or the church. Neither does it make any criticism of the codding of "adult juveniles," proved to be the most dangerous criminals in the country. The report makes no mention of the laxity of the Courts in imposing sentences on offenders old enough to know better.

There are all sorts of schemes for Federal supervision in most every field and facet of our national life. Whether it be those now in control of our Government or those in the future, when they control the youth in thought and action, they can bend the twig in the direction which they want it to grow. It might curb juvenile delinquency, but it also regiments and further centralizes

Federal authority. Apparently there are those who would impose the control of the Federal Government over the entire nation as it is in the District of Columbia. If that be the case, the controls in the Nation's Capital are far from satisfactory. The codding of juvenile criminals, the over-laxity of the Courts, the handicaps placed on the police in Washington, D. C., where this report was created, are a disgrace and a horrible example to the rest of the country.

Research studies at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute conclude that most food fads are just a lot of "yogurt and molasses." It indicates that people will try any new idea to help them find the proverbial fountain of youth or help lose off pounds, put on pounds, have more pep or look more glamorous.

Figures indicate that the public is gullible when it comes to some 50,000 door-to-door salesmen selling food supplements. These, added to retail mail and health lecture food fadists, add up to a $500 million annual business, according to the Institute studies.

Nutritionists, however, believe that progress is being made. During the past half century there has developed a better understanding of the relation of food to health. Getting the proper information to the public results in better fed and less gullible customers.

David Strother Ends Training

During the training, recruits receive tests and interviews which determine future training and assignments in the Navy.
